Pirozzolo Company is Boston Public Relations Agency. Since 1980.

We Make News for Our Clients

We discover and develop the big news value in what you do, generating coverage in major media such as The Wall Street Journal, TIME, Forbes, Institutional Investor and more. In the rapidly changing communications world, we participate in the opportunities offered by blogs, social media and other emerging media to reach and influence your clients, customers, shareholders and other constituents.

We Deliver Global Access

When you work with Pirozzolo Company, you work with a public relations company that has represented USA and international clients. For example we represented the government of Vietnam in its bid to reconcile relations with the US and gain access to open trade with the US. We helped foster trade with Japan and Canada's Atlantic Provinces, and we introduced US businesses to high-tech manufacturing partners in China. In the Middle East, we promoted New England's biggest hotel design firm as a leader in the Saudi Arabia, Qatar and the United Arab Emirates press.

On the consumer side, we promoted the National Association of Homebuilders, Mass Mutual and Wilmington Trust Company. We promoted Yoggie's PC security software and WhiteSmoke's advanced grammar and spell check program ... two hot products created in Israel.

We Go Beneath the Surface of High-Technology PR

Every successful new technology, from an enterprise solution to a consumer product, has an impact on the way we live. We find that impact. We create relevancy and we win media endorsement.

When printed circuit board designer and manufacturer, Mass Design, wanted to strengthen its leadership position in the medical electronics sector, we wrote and placed articles on the impact of national public healthcare policy changes on technology, quoting national leaders such as Ezekiel Emanuel and David Bear, MD and CEO of MedSenry.

When Trayport, Ltd. (GFIG/Nasdaq), whose financial software handles 85% of all carbon trading in the EU, wanted to penetrate the US market, we attracted 66 journalists to a New York event titled “Is Carbon the Next Big Thing for US Business?” Coverage we generated appeared in Reuters, Platts Oilgram, BusinessWeek, Forbes, Risk Management and Financial Technology as well as on Japan's NHK TV.

We introduced FCM360, provider of managed datacenter solutions for high-frequency, low-latency trading with feature articles on CEO and founder Jubin Pejman that have appeared in Financial Technology, Oil Daily, Reuters and other A-list media outlets.

For PeerApp, Inc. we repositioned peer-to-peer file transfer – known mostly for illegal activity and copyright infringement – as a positive solution that increases Web access and lowers costs for the people of Africa, South America and Asia.

We Start Up the Start-Ups

Pirozzolo Company Public Relations introduced Wright Express Corporation to CBS News, and the coverage generated venture capital funding for this trucking fleet IT and credit card company. We managed public and media relations campaigns for two emerging companies in the biometric security sector: Morpheus Technologies and Acuity Market Intelligence.

Institutional and Retail Financial Services

In the retail financial services sector, we created promotions and arranged interviews that showcased the unique capabilities and reputations of Legacy Financial Advisors; Atlantic Financial, Inc.; Wellesley Financial Advisors and Wilmington Trust to high-net-worth individuals. On the institutional side, we represented Trust Universe Comparison Service, Citibank, Mass Mutual, Wilshire 5000 and UBS AgriVest.
